ABOUT TRIP

Join us on a heart warming educational journey to the magical island of Bali, Where we'll be part of a story that brings hope to young hearts. Together, we'll support children at a local school who are eager to learn but lack access to proper education.

Our mission focuses on teaching a variety of topics through fun, interactive methods—games, experiments, outdoor activities, and creative learning that inspires joy and curiosity. Beyond teaching, we'll also take part in community development projects that help create a nurturing environment for these children to thrive.

This isn't just a teaching trip, it's a chance to make a lasting impact. An opportunity for anyone passionate about change, storytelling, and the power of education. Join us, and use your English language skills to connect, teach, and uplift young minds who dream of a brighter future.

Water Fall

Overview

The Goa Raja Waterfall is a recently discovered hidden gem in east Bali, just a short distance from the famous Tukad Cepung Waterfall.

This spot is pretty easy to reach from Ubud, and it has a big waterfall inside of a cave, just like the name implies (Goa Raja is Indonesian for 'king cave').

There's even a small natural pool for swimming. All in all, we actually liked this waterfall better than Tukad Cepung, and of course there were way less tourists.
